Winter 2016 (Term 2)
Mondays 7-9 p.m.

I. Course Description

The study of the book of Hebrews will provide an excellent resource for students who specialize in Biblical Studies, Church and Culture or Pastoral Studies as well as PhD students. The student who specializes in Biblical studies will find right insight into its argument and theology, its hermeneutics in its use of the Old Testament, key passages, and classic interpretive problems. The student who specializes in Church and Culture will find the corresponding relevance of ancient literature, thought symbols and stories to our contemporary worldview. The student who specializes in Pastoral Studies will encounter a text that is written to help a first century Christian community in a time of crisis, equipping them to find the face of God as they faced suffering, homelessness and forced immigration. Therefore, when understood in its context, Hebrews is not only a book that helps us to encounter Jesus at a deeper level, but it models exegetical and theological skills spiritual disciplines and the development of vision and mission.

The core of this course is an exegetical and interpretative study of the Book of Hebrews in English translation. This class involves an acquaintance with structure, content, message, context and other interpretive issues of Hebrews as well. However, all will benefit from the exploration of its meaning for today in discipleship, community and ministry.

II. Course Objectives

Specific Objectives – Through reading, lectures, discussion and assignments

Knowing

1. The student will know the Hebrews teaching on how to draw closer to God.
2. The student will understand Hebrews in its social, historical, literary and religious Jewish Hellenistic context
3. The student will be familiar with critical views concerning introductory questions (i.e. authorship, date, settings, etc.) and identify the features in the text that illuminate the options

Being

4. The student will be spiritually challenged by message of Hebrews.
5. The student will appreciate the distinctive content and theology of the text and goal(s) of the author.
6. The student will enter into partnership with Jesus in his heavenly calling.

Doing

7. The student will review the manuscript of the NCCS Commentary on the Book of Hebrews, and read other studies on Hebrews.
8. The student will research and write a paper on an aspect of Hebrews in the area of their specialization.
9. The student will utilize their research and the course resources to develop a strategy for the re-presentation of a passage, theme or issue in Hebrews in the area of their specialization in a contemporary context.

III. Course Requirements for NT 3XT3A. Class Participation (10%)

Student participation in interactive lectures and class and group discussions is expected, based on your readings for the week.

B. Reading (10%)

See the Daily Schedule at the end for the precise dates and pages.

1. Weekly read a commentary of your choice on the scheduled material or passage.
2. Weekly read the scheduled material or passage in the NCCS Commentary on the Book of Hebrews.
3. Read Hebrews three times in its entirety in three different translations.
4. At the final class, the student will be asked to summarize the percentage of reading that was completed.

C. Written Assignments

In order to pass the course, all assignments must be completed

1. Book Review (10%)

Each week at class time the student will submit a paragraph by e-mail or Avenue that reviews the chapter from the NCCS Commentary on Hebrews, interacting with the material from another commentary selected by the student.

2. Research Paper (30%)

- a. Each student will write a research paper on an aspect of Hebrews that concerns biblical studies, church and culture or pastoral studies. It will be due February 26, at midnight. It will be submitted by e-mail to westfal@mcmaster.ca and the course GA. Late papers will be docked at the rate of 1% per day for the first 7 days (including weekends) and 4% per day after that.
- b. Length & style: It should be approximately 4,000 words (about fifteen pages) of text, excluding footnotes and bibliography. For all matters of style and form, consult the McMaster Divinity College Style Guide at: <http://www.mcmasterdivinity.ca/sites/default/files/documents/mdcstyleguide.pdf>
- c. Approach: Choose an aspect of Hebrews that reflects your specialization, and do the appropriate research that effectively interacts with the text and with pertinent factors in your specialization. A standard research paper would utilize a minimum of twelve academic sources, but you may have alternate elements such as an analysis of a specific church or neighborhood that could take the place of a source.

3. Profile Project & Presentation (30% + 10%)

- a. Each student will complete a paper or project designed to make the research accessible in a specific contemporary context, and present the project in class. A hard copy will be due at 7 p.m. on April 4 (at the time of the scheduled exam). No late projects will be accepted.
- b. Length & style: If written, it should be approximately 3000 words (about twelve pages) of text, excluding footnotes and bibliography. For all matters of style and form, consult the McMaster Divinity College Style Guide (above). If it is a project, it should involve somewhat comparable in time and effort to a 12 pg. research paper.
- c. Each project should be discussed in advance with the professor and a written statement describing the specific contemporary context targeted, the passage that is being re-presented, the goal of the project and the approach. Choose mediums other than the traditional letters or sermons.
Some suggestions include:
 - Write a study guide that will assist young adult learners in exploring or understanding all or part of Hebrews. Include questions, explanations, directions and other material that both enlightens the text in its historical context and helps learners to connect the text with life today.
 - Design a movie presentation, critical review and discussion which encapsulates a theme of Hebrews with a modern metaphor.
 - Write a parable or allegory that utilizes significant or powerful contemporary imagery, symbols or metaphors that express the message and content of Hebrews.
 - Write a collection of poetry or songs that explore thought, themes and/or emotions in Hebrews.
 - Design an experience for a small group that simulates the situation of the recipients and the achievement of the goal(s) of the author.
 - Describe connections between the characters, contexts and themes in your life story and Hebrews.

F. Grading Summary

1.	Reading	10%
2.	Books reviews	10%
2.	Participation	10%
3.	Research Paper	30%
4.	Profile Project	30%
5.	Presentation of project	10%

IV. Requirements for NT/TH 6XT6

This is a graduate research level course. It is assumed that students will perform as graduate research students to facilitate learning. Students will be expected to do suitable academic work outside of the classroom.

Successful completion of the course requires satisfactory completion of the course requirements. Failure to make a valid attempt to complete the requirements may constitute grounds for failure of the course.

A. Participation (10%)

The student is expected to come to class having prepared sufficiently to make a contribution to the topic of discussion and raise significant questions by reading primary and secondary material and by reading all seminar papers in advance. A general introduction to the course subject is required and a short bibliography is included for further reference; each student will want to build a more extensive bibliography.

B. Reading (10%)

Students will read 4,000 pages from works on the Book of Hebrews. The reading list is due on Dec 9 with a total page count.

C. Written Assignments

1. Research Paper (35%)

The paper is due midnight Friday March 18. Late papers will be docked at the rate of 1% per day for the first 7 days (including weekends) and 4% per day after that.

6,000 words, excluding notes and bibliography on an issue, methodology, or text in the study of the book of Hebrews.

The professor assumes that students already know the basics about how to research, write and orally present papers. However, we will work at further developing skills that are utilized in scholarly discourse and publication. Both content (research, analysis, organization of material) and presentation (mechanics and style) are important. Each student must utilize the MDC style guide

The general guidelines are that the paper should be 12 pt. font, double-spaced, with 1" margins and utilize footnotes (not endnotes). The paper should include a title page, numbering and a staple cover (not fancy). Each paper should include a formal introduction and conclusion as well as implications for contemporary hermeneutics and any applications for contemporary ministry.

2. Syllabus & Presentation (20% + 5%)

The syllabus is due 7:00 p.m. April 4, at the time of the scheduled final. Since this has a presentation component, no late syllabi will be accepted.

A detailed syllabus and lecture outline for a college level course of a specific institution, either a general introduction to Hebrews, or an elective course that integrates insights from your papers.

D. Teaching Unit (20%)

The student will prepare and teach 1 hour of the course, covering a passage determined by the professor and student.

E. Grading Summary

1.	Paper	35%
2.	Syllabus	25%
3.	Teaching Unit	20%
4.	Reading	10%
5.	Participation	10%

V. Textbooks and MaterialsA. Required

C. Textbook Purchase

All required textbooks for this class are available from the College's book service, READ On Bookstore, Room 145, McMaster Divinity College. Texts may be purchased on the first day of class. For advance purchase, you may contact READ On Bookstore, 304 The East Mall, Suite 100, Etobicoke, ON M9C 5K1: phone 416.620.2934; fax 416.622.2308; email books@readon.ca. Other book services may also carry the texts.

D. Additional Materials

Handouts for lectures and class discussion will be made available during class and/or through the course DropBox or Avenue.

V. Classroom Behavior

A. Attendance

1. Students should be on time to class or be prepared to offer an explanation to the professor.
2. Students are expected to stay for the entire class session, unless arranged in advance.
3. More than 2 absences may result in a penalty. More than 4 absences will result in a failure of the course.

B. Participation

1. Please respect the opinions of others without disrespect or ridicule, even if you do not agree with them. However, feel free to respond logically and critically in an orderly manner.
2. Students are not expected to be doing work on any other subject except that which is appropriate in the course outline.
3. Students are not to carry on off-topic conversations in class.
4. Students are not to access e-mail, send or receive text messages, surf the net, etc., while class is in session
5. Students may eat or drink in class if they do not distract others and they clean up their desks.

Students who fail to respect these guidelines may lose participation points and/or be dismissed from the class.

C. Academic Honesty

Academic dishonesty is a serious offence that may take any number of forms, including plagiarism, the submission of work that is not one's own or for which previous credit has been obtained, and/or unauthorized collaboration with other students. Academic dishonesty can result in severe consequences, e.g., failure of the assignment, failure of the course, a notation on one's academic transcript, and/or suspension or expulsion from the College.

Students are responsible for understanding what constitutes academic dishonesty. Please refer to the Divinity College Statement on Academic Honesty:

<http://www.mcmasterdivinity.ca/programs/rules-regulations>

D. Gender Inclusive Language

McMaster Divinity College uses inclusive language for human beings in worship services, student written materials, and all of its publications. In reference to biblical texts, the integrity of the original expressions and the names of God should be respected. The NRSV and TNIV are examples of the use of inclusive language for human beings. It is expected that inclusive language will be used in chapel services and all MDC assignments.
