WebEx Session Dec 10 (3:30–5:30 pm)

Course Description

Gender is one of the most crucial issues facing the church, the academy and the society. The #metoo movement and the debate on the role of men and women in the home, church and society may be the major issues among North American evangelicals, and recently, the relationship of gender to the doctrine of the Trinity has been a major focus. We will allow you the space that you need to process the issues. Christian leaders and committed lay people will do well to understand the current situation, work on a coherent biblical theology, and discern their own role and ministry or courses of action in the home, church and culture. This course will give each student the opportunity and resources to explore this issue in their area of specialization and to benefit from the insights and contributions of the other areas. The focus of research in the course may extend beyond gender roles to include contemporary concerns such as sexuality and sexual behavior, eating disorders, pornography, domestic violence and the sex trade.

This hybrid course will be a study of the biblical role of gender in ministry as it relates to the Church & Culture, Christian Worldview and Pastoral Studies. The title of the course, Gender & Ministry, reflects an interest in the issues of both genders. As a hybrid course, the format of the course will include weekly assignments accomplished online and online discussion as well as meeting Oct 18 & 19, two WebEx sessions and major papers.

Course Objectives

Specific Objectives – Through reading, lectures, discussion and assignments the student will:

Knowing

- Understand the concept of gender and how it relates to various issues, practices and problems.
- Understand the role gender has played in the student's own story
- Know the key biblical texts that concern gender and work towards understanding their interpretation within a coherent biblical theology

Being

- Experience a fusion of identity in Christ, calling and community with gender
- Be a proactive participant in the evangelical conversation on gender in a way that is consistent with the student's calling

Doing

- Process current gender issues and concerns with classmates.
- Research of a passage or topic that makes a contribution to the study of gender and ministry
- Develop a syllabus to teach a Gender and Ministry course

Textbook Purchase

All required textbooks for this class are available from the College's book service, READ On Bookstore, Room 145, McMaster Divinity College. Texts may be purchased on the first day of class. For advance purchase, you may contact READ On Bookstore, 5 International Blvd, Etobicoke, Ontario M9W 6H3: phone 416.620.2934; fax 416.622.2308; email books@readon.ca. Other book services may also carry the texts.

Academic Honesty

Academic dishonesty is a serious offence that may take any number of forms, including plagiarism, the submission of work that is not one's own or for which previous credit has been obtained, and/or unauthorized collaboration with other students. Academic dishonesty can result in severe consequences, e.g., failure of the assignment, failure of the course, a notation on one's academic transcript, and/or suspension or expulsion from the College.

Students are responsible for understanding what constitutes academic dishonesty. Please refer to the Divinity College Statement on Academic Honesty ~ <https://mcmasterdivinity.ca/rules-regulations/>

Gender Inclusive Language

McMaster Divinity College uses inclusive language for human beings in worship services, student written materials, and all its publications. It is expected that inclusive language will be used in chapel services and all MDC assignments. In reference to biblical texts, the integrity of the original expressions and the names of God should be respected, but you will need to use gender-inclusive language for humans, and you will need to quote from a gender-inclusive version such as the following: NRSV (1989), NCV (1991), TEV/GNB/GNT (1992), CEV (1995), NLT (1996), TNIV (2005), and the Common English Bible (CEB 2011).

Style

All stylistic considerations (including but not limited to questions of formatting, footnotes, and bibliographic references) must conform to the McMaster Divinity College Style Guidelines for Essays and Theses <http://mcmasterdivinity.ca/wp-content/uploads/2018/02/mdcstyleguide.pdf>
Failure to observe appropriate form will result in grade reductions.
