INTRODUCTION TO NEW TESTAMENT GREEK 2 (ONLINE) – NT 1H03 FALL 2019

I. Course Description

The second half of the online Greek course that leads to competency in reading and interpreting the Greek New Testament.

II. Course Objectives

The objectives of the class are categorized and outlined below and will be accomplished through the various lectures, tutorials, assignments, and exams provided.

A. Knowing

1. The student will learn morphology, grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of Koine Greek.
2. The student will be able to translate Koine Greek into contemporary English.
3. The student will know how to use a New Testament Greek lexicon.
4. The student will be exposed to the current discussions on Greek linguistics.

B. Being

1. The student will be competent in a new (but ancient) language.
2. The student will be a reader of the New Testament in its original language.
3. The student will be a better exegete and preacher/teacher in knowing the original language of the New Testament.
4. The student will be confident in interacting with other resources, such as commentaries, and will be able to discern correct interpretations of the NT.

C. Doing

1. The student will use the Greek Bible in personal study, preaching, and academic exegetical work.
2. The student will be better equipped to engage with critical scholarship on the New Testament.

III. Course Prerequisites

Introduction to New Testament Greek 1.

IV. Textbook and Materials

Stanley E. Porter, Jeffrey T. Reed, and Matthew Brook O'Donnell, Fundamentals of New Testament Greek (Grand Rapids, MI: Eerdmans, 2010).

Stanley E. Porter, Jeffrey T. Reed, Fundamentals of New Testament Greek Workbook (Grand Rapids, MI: Eerdmans, 2010).

The Greek New Testament (5th ed.; D-Stuttgart: United Bible Societies, 2014). The cost for students in this course is $15 (plus shipping if necessary; retail is usually around $90). An email is sent with instructions on how to order this.

Textbooks for this class are available from the College's bookstore, READ On Bookstore, Room 145, McMaster Divinity College. For online or phone purchases, contact: READ On Bookstore, 5 International Blvd, Etobicoke, ON M5W 6H3; phone 416-620-2934; fax 416-622-2308; email books@readon.ca.

V. Interaction with the Instructor

The instructor will be available via email, phone, Skype, and Avenue to Learn. The student is encouraged but not obligated to schedule a conversation with the instructor on a regular basis during the semester. This will ensure that students keep themselves on-track for successful completion of the course. Students are to initiate this interaction.

VI. Course Requirements

A. Weekly Assignments (15)

The student will watch the video lectures and tutorials and then complete the assignments for each lesson, ideally on a weekly basis. The video lectures and tutorials are to be watched prior to completing the assignment. The list of assignments and schedule is listed below.

Assignments are to be submitted electronically via email (yoond2@mcmaster.ca) to the instructor upon completion of the assignment (attached as a pdf; suggestions for scanning the assignments are posted on Avenue to Learn). Please ensure the assignments are clear enough to read. Assignments may be returned with any comments to aid the student and help them to better prepare for the mid-terms and final exam. If there seems to be any deficiency of progress, the instructor may set up an appointment to go over the pertinent material.

Each assignment is worth 2% of the final grade. As long as students show that they have completed every assigned exercise (see below for specific lessons), they have applied what they have learned, and they show progress in the course, they will be awarded full credit for the assignment. It is at the instructor's discretion whether an assignment is deemed incomplete, but an explanation to the student will be provided if such is the case.

Deadlines for the assignments are as follows:

- Lessons 16–20 due by 11:59pm (EST), Oct 9
- Lessons 21–25 due by 11:59pm (EST), Nov 13
- Lessons 26–30 due by 11:59pm (EST), Dec 11

The penalty for not turning in the assignments by the due dates are forfeiture of the points for those assignments. With the exception of very special circumstances, the due dates are firm, so each student is encouraged to hand in their assignments as early as possible.

B. Midterm Exams (2)

There are two midterm exams for this course on the material pertinent to the assignments and lessons provided in the lectures and textbook/workbook. These exams last 1.5 hours. When the student is ready to take the exam, according to the course schedule below, the student will contact the instructor and decide together the date/time of the exam. The student should make arrangements with the instructor (and proctor) at least a week in advance. A study guide will be provided some time before the exam—the guide will list what sort of material will be covered on the exam. The exams are always cumulative, since lessons build upon the previous ones.

The deadline to take the first exam is Oct 11. The deadline for the second exam is Nov 15. Failing to take the exams before the deadline will result in a zero for each exam not taken.

C. Final Exam (1)

The same guidelines are applicable for the final exam as the midterm exams. While the midterm exams are 1.5 hours, the final is 3 hours. The last day that the final exam can be taken is Dec 13. Failing to take the final exam before or on this date will result in a zero.

Each exam will be administered to the student to complete within an allotted time. Exams will be proctored. The student must choose someone to proctor the exam, and this person must be approved by the instructor and Registrar of McMaster Divinity College. Examples of approved proctors are faculty or staff of any accredited seminary, university, or college, or a pastor or staff member of a local church. An option for students who live close enough to the College is to take the exam on campus, by arrangement with the instructor who will serve as the proctor. Please email the instructor for further details on arranging the exams.

D. Deadline Summary

Oct 9 – Assignments 16-20 due
 Oct 11 – Midterm 1 due
 Nov 13 – Assignments 21-25 due
 Nov 15 – Midterm 2 due
 Dec 11 – Assignments 26-30 due

VII. Course Assessment

Assignments – 30%
 Lecture and Tutorial View – 5%
 Mid-Term 1 – 20%
 Mid-Term 2 – 20%
 Final Exam – 25%

VIII. Course Restrictions

Since this is an online course, the pace at which the student progresses depends upon the student. However, a number of restrictions must be noted:

1. The student must begin his/her semester in September or January (or in the case of summer school, May or July). Students will not be able to begin a course during any other month.
2. Once the course has begun, the student has a limited amount of time to drop the course. After a certain date no refunds are available. The deadlines are available on the McMaster Divinity College Calendar.
3. The course will be separated into two components: semesters 1 and 2. A student must complete semester 1 before attempting to complete semester 2. Any exceptions to this rule must be approved by the Registrar of McMaster Divinity College.
4. A student cannot begin semester 2 mid-semester. For example, a student who begins semester 1 in September and finishes in November cannot begin semester 2 in November—he or she must wait until January to begin semester 2.
5. Successful completion of the course requires that the student competently complete each assignment and write three exams. The two mid-term exams will be available after the appropriate lessons have been completed. The final exam will become available once the student has completed all of the lessons.
6. A student wishing to do an intensive study can do so starting in May. The student has from May 1st–August 29th to complete semesters 1 and 2. The above stated regulations also apply to this option.

IX. Course Schedule

This course is divided into 15 lessons. The lessons are designed in such a way that the student is able to study at a pace of 1 or 1.5 lesson(s) per week. It is in the student's best interest not to proceed at a pace less than one lesson per week. Each of the assignments are found in the course workbook.

X. Academic Honesty Policy

Academic dishonesty is a serious offense that may take any number of forms, including plagiarism, the submission of work that is not one's own or for which previous credit has been obtained, and/or unauthorized collaboration with other students. Academic dishonesty can result in severe consequences, e.g., failure of the assignment, failure of the course, a notation on one's academic transcript, and/or suspension or expulsion from the College.

Students are responsible for understanding what constitutes academic dishonesty. Please refer to the Divinity College Statement on Academic Honesty:

<http://www.mcmasterdivinity.ca/programs/rules-regulations>

XI. Gender Inclusive Language

McMaster Divinity College uses inclusive language for human beings in worship services, student written materials, and all of its publications. In reference to biblical texts, the integrity of the original expressions and the names of God should be respected. The NRSV and TNIV are examples of the use of inclusive language for human beings. It is expected that inclusive language will be used in chapel services and all MDC assignments.
