I. Description:

This course explores contemporary approaches to Christian leadership and proposes a theology of leadership as participation in the mission of the Triune God. The course evaluates the explicit and implicit theological assumptions of contemporary views on Christian leadership. VI. Assignment Descriptions:

General Guidelines:

- Submit your assignments in the relevant folder on Avenue to Learn.
- Papers and assignments may be submitted early for feedback from the professor and resubmitted on the due date for grading.
- All papers and assignments should conform to MDC’s Style Guide.

A. Leadership challenge and opportunity blog

1. Identify:

- Identify what you think is/are key challenges and opportunities for Christian leadership today.
- The lecture content for weeks 2 and 3 will help provide categories for identifying challenges and opportunities—e.g., week 3 Culture and leadership is a case study in ways that cultural context shapes assumptions about and practices of leadership.

2. Write an opinion piece (blog) on the challenges and opportunities for contemporary Christian leadership. The audience for the blog is not academic. It should effectively deliver a description, analysis, and contribution of the challenges and opportunities to a popular audience.
 - Length: 500 words. Be concise, clear, and interesting.
3. Post your blog on Padlet—see week three folder on Avenue.
4. Interact: Comment on the blogs posted by your class colleagues. You can contribute with the text, audio, or audio-video function within Padlet.

B. Biblical leadership essay

1. Description:
 - This assignment provides the opportunity to investigate a biblical example of leadership. The assignment has a written submission and virtual presentation.
 - See below for written submission guidelines.
 - For the virtual presentation during week 6, you will briefly summarize your paper (approx. 5 minutes). The presentation is an informal sharing of the biblical leadership example in your paper. We will schedule this session after the course begins.
2. The essay should . . .
 - a. Identify and describe the leadership “paradigm,” method, or example used by the biblical character/s.
 - b. Assess the contextual and applicational nature of the leadership paradigm or method of the biblical character/s.

Questions to consider for the assessment of the leadership paradigm:

- Is the style and leadership method purely contextual? Although the case study may be biblical, in the sense that it is in the Bible, should it be reified as “the” or “a” biblical model of leadership for contemporary Christian leadership?
- What does the example offer to contemporary leadership? For example, Jesus’ method is a small group mentoring approach, but is this a ‘biblical model’ of leadership or a style that reflects common leadership practices among first-century religious/philosophical figures?

- c. Length: 5–7 pages.
- d. Use scholarly resources for understanding the context and meaning of the passage (5–7 sources is a good start).

C. Mini-seminar on leadership

1. Purpose:
This assignment provides experience distilling and synthesizing information for presentation in leadership training.
2. Description:
Prepare a mini-seminar on a topic related to leadership based on principles of Christian theology. For example, a theology of the divine image as pluripotent supports an approach to leadership that recognizes and nurtures diverse talents. It can be a leadership method (e.g., servant leadership), a new book or school of thought on leadership, or a theme related to leadership such as sharing power and collaboration. The seminar does not need to be geared toward a church context but should be crafted for a specific audience—e.g., a church lay, professional ministry, or business leadership group. The content and its development should reflect the target audience. I encourage you to prepare material that you can use in your current or anticipated context of leadership.
3. Guidelines:
 - a. The seminar material should present and describe the primary content points of the topic (or sub-topic). For the written submission, a verbatim manuscript is not necessary, but a detailed annotated outline of the content. If using multiple sources, use footnotes to document source material.
 - b. Handouts/outlines and PowerPoint/Prezi are helpful, but not required.
 - c. Length:
Develop the seminar content for a thirty-minute presentation.
4. Presentation
 - a. Date: March 11, afternoon of day 2 of the campus session
 - b. The presentation should introduce the . . .
 - Target audience,
 - Topic,
 - Why you chose it, and . . .

- Outline the topic’s development in the seminar. You do not need to present the entire seminar. The presentation is an overview of the seminar.
- c. Length of presentation is approx. 10-15 minutes.

D. Project/paper

Paper or project?

This assignment constitutes the “major paper” and presentation of the course. The purpose of the paper/project is vocational development. It should advance your vocational trajectory.

Selecting whether to prepare a project or a paper is an important step in the process. If you anticipate further graduate work or writing a thesis as part of your MTS or MDiv, then an academic research-thesis paper is an excellent option. A research-thesis paper provides skill development in conducting the concentrated study on a particular research topic necessary for advanced academic work.

If your vocational track is ministry or an alternative professional field, then a project may be an effective option. Completing a project provides skill development in contextualizing and applying the fruit of theological research and reflection for a non-academic audience.

If you have an idea for a paper or creative project that does not fit neatly into the parameters of your specialization’s assignment description, please discuss your idea with me. I am open to papers/projects that cohere with the essence of the course and are suited to your research field and interests.

◆ Please consult the assignment description for your degree specialization, see below ◆

The paper/project has three parts:

- The presentation of the paper/project
- The interaction with your course colleagues’ papers/projects, and . . .
- The final written submission of the paper/project.

1. Presentation (post video on Padlet)

a. Purpose

- Presenting your paper gives you the opportunity to share your major paper/project with your class colleagues.

- Your presentation may not reflect the completed paper/project. Indeed, the gap between the presentation and final due date provides you the opportunity to incorporate feedback from your class colleagues (see below for paper/project interaction).

b. Guidelines

- a. Create a video presentation that shares your paper/project's . . .

- Topic
- Why you chose your topic
- Content areas and development
- Key resources

- b. Video length: 10 to 15 minutes.

- c. Post on Paper Presentation Padlet in Avenue to Learn

2. Interaction

- a. Purpose:

Provides experience in responding to and contributing to your class colleagues' projects. It also provides the opportunity to develop professional skills in online presentations.

- b. Description:

Each student prepares a critical evaluation of the integrative papers/projects presented by their class colleagues. Evaluations can be written, audio, or audio-visual.

- 1) The interaction should be . . .

- a) Charitable

- b) Critical (includes highlighting and discussing problems and strengths):

The interaction should explore the following sorts of issues:

- Does the paper have a thesis?
- Does the content develop and support the thesis?
- Does it use appropriate sources?
- Does it address a significant topic and develop it?
- For projects, does it seem like an effective approach to a particular issue, topic, and does it seem effective given its target audience?

- 2) Post your critical evaluation (text, audio, video) for each student in the paper/project Padlet.
3. Paper/project written submissions
- a. Paper:
 - 1) Content and argument:
 - Detail a clear thesis (the view that your paper supports).
Example of a thesis statement: Stanley Hauerwas' ecclesiocentric vision of Christian identity does/does not provide an effective paradigm for Christian activity in a modern nation state.
 - Describe your topic under consideration.
 - Write an essay that coherently demonstrates your view.
 - Detail major alternatives and/or criticisms of the position and interact with them vis-à-vis your view (where appropriate and in so far as space allows).
 - 2) Presentation:
 - Write a stylistically clean and academic paper—e.g., avoid colloquialisms (academic is different than conversational voice), passive voice (use active). Research-thesis papers must have a thesis statement (stated in the introduction), introduction, content, and conclusion sections of the paper.
 - Use and document a minimum of ten scholarly resources. Do your best here depending on accessibility due to potential COVID-19 restrictions.
 - Accurately document sources according to the College's Style Guide.
 - Paper length: 10–12 pages.
 - Provide a bibliography (list only the books cited in the footnotes of the paper).
 - The final written paper/project is due one week after the video presentation (see course outline for final submission dates).
 - b. Projects:

- 1) Project content: for example, if you choose to prepare a sermon, you would submit a manuscript of your sermon/message that includes footnotes, which detail where and how you applied and adapted your theological research in the area of leadership. The sermon does not need to be a verbatim manuscript; a detailed and annotated outline works.
- 2) Annotated bibliography of research sources: An annotation is a paragraph or two that describes the content of the book, essay, or article and how it relates to your research project. In addition to the sermon outline, you will provide an annotated bibliography that details the content of the sources and ways they contributed to the sermon.
- 3) Double-spaced pages, 12 point Times New Roman font.
- 4) Use and document at least 10 scholarly resources (e.g., scholarly monographs, journal articles, and essays).
- 5) Document sources with footnotes and follow the MacDiv Style Guide.

Specialization focus: CC/CW/PS

Church and Culture

This specialization focuses on the intersection of the church and its cultural setting. Developing the ability to interact with contemporary issues and to specify an appropriate Christian response and interaction with it is the purpose of this assignment. Discerning appropriate ways to embody the Gospel of Jesus Christ in terms of our specific cultural location is an essential aspect of Christian discipleship and ministry and this assignment seeks to facilitate this process. The paper/project analyzes a contemporary issue or movement from a Christian perspective. Careful and accurate description of the issue, as well as thoughtful assessment and response from a Christian perspective is essential.

This specialization develops the following skills:

- Assess and articulate what is happening in contemporary culture.
- Address cultural issues from a distinctively Christian point of view.
- Be familiar with tools and methods that identify and analyze cultural distinctives.
- Be equipped to interface with a variety of cultures and within a multi-cultural context.

Your paper/project may not be able to employ all of those skills, but you should craft it with them in mind. Your paper/project should investigate the interface between leadership and culture. The paper/project provides the opportunity to explore the relationship between a theology of leadership and culture. Options are open based on your vocational/academic goals. Your goal is to explore an approach to leadership (church or non-church based) that shows how cultural context shapes the approach to/style of leadership.

Possible topics:

- How does church leadership reflect corporate values and assumptions about leadership? Alternatively, explore a particular church or movement that endeavors to embody a counter cultural approach to leadership.
- How do attractional approaches to church leadership reflect consumer marketing values?
- How does a popular approach to corporate leadership reflect and/or not reflect biblical values and approaches to leadership?

Christian Worldview and History

This specialization relates to the intellectual environment—historical, contemporary, and global—of contemporary Christianity. Engage a topic related to Christian leadership that addresses an element of Christian worldview. The paper/project should be constructive and not only descriptive. The heart of this assignment is your creative contribution to what a Christian worldview offers to an issue in contemporary Christian leadership.

This specialization develops the following skills:

- Develop a comprehensive knowledge of key figures and movements in Christian history and theology.
- Demonstrate sensitivity to issues in evangelical thought, history, and practice.

Possible topics:

- Discuss and evaluate a key leadership crisis in the history of the church—e.g., the investiture controversy and the split that led to the Avignon papacy; Dietrich Bonhoeffer and Karl Barth and the formation of the Confessing Church in opposition to the German Christian church.
- William Wilberforce's moral and political leadership in the abolition movement.
- What are the theological assumptions of egalitarian approaches to leadership? How does the rise of second and third wave feminism contribute to this discussion in the church?

Pastoral Studies

This specialization focuses on vocational ministry. Prepare a sermon/message/curriculum appropriate for a given ministry audience related to Christian leadership. You can draw on biblical, historical, and/or systematic approaches to Christian leadership. The content of the sermon draws from theological resources, but expresses the yield of that theology in language and terms that are appropriate for a ministry audience. Alternatively, if you have an idea for contextualizing Christian leadership other than in a sermon, please talk with me so we can design a project that enables you to maximize your work in the class for your ministry context and meets the goals of the specialization in Pastoral Studies.

This specialization develops the following skills:

- Formulate and implement appropriate leadership strategies for pastoral ministry.
- Make practical and ethical decisions on the basis of a coherent Christian worldview.
- Foster spiritual skills and competencies on the part of others.

- Identify and nurture a range of spiritual temperaments.
- Communicate Christian principles, values, and worldview.
- Apply the lessons of Christian history and theological perspective to contemporary life, thought, and ministry.
- Develop a cognitive framework for reflectively engaging with all aspects of creation and culture.
- Engage and dialogue with other worldviews (hermeneutical, global, religious, creedal, ethnic).
- Have an increased awareness of how church history and tradition are formative in the development of one's worldview.

Your paper/project may not be able to employ all of those skills, but you should craft it with them in mind.

Possible topics:

- A seminar could develop the theological basis and practices for egalitarian and non-hierarchical leadership styles increasingly popular in new church ('emerging') groups.
- A sermon could outline theological principles and practices for leadership, which are applied to the life circumstances of parishioners—e.g., how do theological principles of leadership help Christians leaders in their professional business activities.

B. Academic Honesty:

Academic dishonesty is a serious offence that may take any number of forms, including plagiarism, the submission of work that is not one's own or for which previous credit has been obtained, and/or unauthorized collaboration with other students. Academic dishonesty can result in severe consequences, e.g., failure of the assignment, failure of the course, a notation on one's academic transcript, and/or suspension or expulsion from the College.

Students are responsible for understanding what constitutes academic dishonesty. Please refer to the Divinity College Statement on Academic Honesty <https://www.mcmasterdivinity.ca/programs/rules-regulations>.

C. Gender Inclusive Language:

McMaster Divinity College uses inclusive language for human beings in worship services, student written materials, and all its publications. It is expected that inclusive language will be used in chapel services and all MDC assignments. In reference to biblical texts, the integrity of the original expressions and the names of God should be respected, but you will need to use gender-inclusive language for humans, and you will need to quote from a gender-inclusive version such as the following: NRSV (1989), NCV (1991), TEV/GNB/GNT (1992), CEV (1995), NLT (1996), TNIV (2005), and the Common English Bible (CEB 2011).

- D. Style:
All stylistic considerations (including but not limited to questions of formatting, footnotes, and bibliographic references) must conform to the McMaster Divinity College Style Guidelines for Essays and Theses <https://mcmasterdivinity.ca/sites/default/files/documents/mdcstyleguide.pdf>

Failure to observe appropriate form will result in grade reductions.

- E. Disclaimer:
This syllabus is the property of the instructor and is prepared with currently available information. The instructor reserves the right to make changes and revisions up to and including the first day of class.

VIII. Late-Assignment and Exam Policy:

- A. Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the date specified in the syllabus.
- B. Students take exams on the date and at the time scheduled in the syllabus.
- C. Late assignments are reduced five percentage points for each day late (e.g., if the grade is 90 and it is one day late, the grade will be reduced to 85).
- D. Assignments and exams will be accepted without penalty after the specified date in the syllabus only in the case of an excused absence. If a student misses an exam or assignment submission due to a reason that he/she believes is excusable, then he/she must notify the instructor and schedule an exam date and/or late-assignment submission date within twenty-four hours of the beginning of the missed class session.
- E. Assignments and exams will not be accepted late on the basis of the student's involvement with school-approved activities. If you are not able to be in class for an exam or assignment submission, then you must pre-arrange with the instructor to take the exam and/or submit the assignment before the scheduled date in the syllabus.

 2. Assesses the contextual and transcendental nature of the leadership paradigm or method employed by the biblical character/s.

Questions to consider for the assessment of the leadership paradigm:

- Is the style and leadership method purely contextual? Although the case study may be biblical, in the sense that it is in the Bible, should it be reified as “the” or “a” biblical model of leadership for contemporary Christian leadership?

3. Length: 10 pages.

II. Lecture, Syllabus, and Annotated Bibliography:

A. Purpose:

This assignment provides experience preparing a syllabus and delivering a lecture for teaching in an undergraduate setting. The preparation of the syllabus also helps fulfill one of the requirements of the Mastery Checklist.

B. Description:

You will prepare a syllabus on a topic related to Christian theology (determined in consultation with the professor). You may use this assignment to investigate an area that will promote your research program (e.g., prepare for doctoral comprehensive exams and MA thesis/PhD dissertation topics). You should, however, gear the syllabus and the lecture toward an undergraduate audience.

C. Guidelines:

1. Research:

- a. Research for the lecture will account for the supplemental reading for research degree students (approximately 5,000-6,000 pages)
- b. Documentation of reading:
Please provide an annotated bibliography of the reading consulted in the preparation of the lecture (the annotations for the texts should be about one paragraph—identify the key thesis and contributions of the text).

2. Lecture:

- a. The lecture should present and discuss the primary content points of the topic (or sub-topic)
- b. Lecture handouts/outlines and PowerPoint/Prezi are helpful, but not required.
- c. Length:
The lecture and discussion will take approximately a fifty-minute period of the course. You will present the lecture during one of the campus class days.

Note: If COVID-19 requires the conversion of this class to all online delivery, you will post a video presentation of your lecture and will have the opportunity to provide feedback to your class colleagues in an online venue.

3. Syllabus:
Be sure to craft the syllabus for an undergraduate class.

The syllabus should contain the essential features of a class syllabus:

- Course title
- Course description
- Course objectives
- Texts (required and supplemental)
- Assignments
- Course outline (weekly lecture topics)

- D. Evaluation:
Grading of the lecture and discussion session will be based on the following . . .

1. Please submit to the professor a copy (electronic in Avenue folder) of your lecture notes and annotated bibliography used to develop the lecture.
2. Does the lecture accurately present and discuss the topic?
3. Does the lecture engage in critical evaluation/discussion of the content?
4. Does the lecture highlight the transcendent value of the material—e.g., does it have value for contemporary Christian thought, life, and ministry?
5. Does the lecture facilitate student discussion?

III. Paper, Presentation, and Interaction:

- A. Description:
Research degree students will write an academic thesis paper or prepare a cultural engagement project. If you have an idea for a paper or creative project, please come and discuss your idea with me. I am open to papers/projects that cohere with the essence of the course and are suited to your research field and interests.
- B. Purpose:
This assignment gives you experience writing article, essay, and chapter length theological papers and presenting research in an oral form similar to that performed at academic conferences.
- C. Guidelines for the Paper:

The paper should include (description categories below correspond to those of the grading rubric) . . .

1. Content and argument:

a. Detail a clear thesis (the view that your paper supports).

- Example of a thesis statement: the Emergent church movement is an authentic Christian way of being the church in a postmodern and post-Christian culture.

b. Describe your topic.

c. Write an essay that coherently demonstrates your view.

d. Detail major alternatives and/or criticisms and interact with them vis-à-vis your view.

2. Style and format:

a. Write a stylistically clean and academic paper—e.g., you should avoid excessive first-person discourse, colloquialisms (academic is different than conversational voice), passive voice (use active).

b. Use and document a minimum of fifteen scholarly resources.

c. Accurately document sources according to the College's Style Guide.

d. Paper length: 20–25 pages. Not to exceed 7,000 words.

e. Provide a bibliography (list only the books cited in the footnotes of the paper).

f. Use footnotes.

D. Guidelines for the Class Presentation (live Zoom presentation):

1. Time: 30-35 minutes

Each presentation includes two parts:

a. The paper presentation (15–20 minutes)

b. The response and facilitation, which is led by another student (10–15 minutes), see below for more details on the response and facilitation).

2. Presentation content:

You should articulate the paper's thesis, topic, and argument. You can use PowerPoint, etc. if you wish. The purpose of this assignment is to give you experience presenting papers as you might at an academic conference. You should prepare and present your paper for that type of venue. I encourage you to consider presenting your paper for this class at a conference and/or the Theological Research Seminar of the Divinity College.

E. Guidelines for the Interaction (live Zoom interaction):

1. Purpose:
Provides experience in responding to academic presentations and discussions, such as one might do at an academic society meeting.
2. Description:
Each student prepares a critique and facilitates a discussion of a thesis paper presentation.
 - a. The critique:
 - 1) Remember to be charitable; not only Christian, but since academia is a small guild, it is self-preservation.
 - 2) Critical (includes highlighting and discussing problems and strengths):

The critique should explore the following sorts of issues:
 - Does the paper have a thesis?
 - Does the content develop and support the thesis?
 - Does it use appropriate sources?
 - Does it interact with the relevant secondary literature?
 - b. The discussion:
You should keep the presentation to time limit and effectively manage student discussion (do not let one person dominate the interaction; move on to a new issue if discussion begins to go off on tangents and run down rabbit trails). Be sure to elicit comments from all people present. You might want to have some prepared questions and discussion prompts to facilitate the initial discussion.

Appendix 2: DPT Requirements

* Note: Depending on final course size, some live sessions may be as separate breakout sessions with DPT students.

II. Assignment Descriptions

A. Annotated bibliography and Seminar OR Blog series

- ◆ This assignment has three parts
 - Annotated bibliography
 - Seminar OR blog series
 - Class presentation/online post and interaction on Padlet
 - ◆ The purpose of this assignment is to develop skills in . . .
 - Researching and reviewing academic resources
 - Creatively applying that research to your PLR topic or other areas of ministry
1. Annotated bibliography
Develop an annotated bibliography of approximately 15-20 resources (4000 pages) related to the topic of the course and your research project. Write a 100–150 word annotation for each text. The required texts for the course can be included as part of the book list.
 2. Seminar OR blog series
 - * Note: If you have an alternative idea to a seminar or blog series, such as a sermon, please consult with me. The goal is for you to complete an assignment that is beneficial to your research and vocational context.

- a. Description:
This assignment provides experience preparing a seminar OR 4 part blog series based on the research resources of the annotated bibliography.

The seminar/blog series should be geared to address either a church lay leadership or professional ministry leadership group. The content and its development should reflect the target audience. You can also use this assignment to investigate an area that will promote your research program. Consequently, the seminar/blog series can address the practice led topic that is the focus of your DPT studies. Thus, this assignment can provide the opportunity to investigate an area of theology and to apply it to your area of practice led research.

- Zoom discussion of seminar/blog series (week 3)

- b. Guidelines

1) Seminar

- The seminar material should present and describe the primary content points of the topic (or sub-topic). It does not need to be a verbatim text, but a detailed and annotated outline of the seminar content (approximately 2,000 words).
- Handouts/outlines and PowerPoint/Prezi are helpful, but not required.
- Length: Develop the seminar content for a thirty- to forty-minute presentation.

2) Blog series

- Write a 4 part blog series. The blog content should derive from the research resources reviewed in the annotated bibliography.
- Length of each blog is 450–500 words.

3) The final written seminar/blog series is due Nov 4.

3. Class presentation or online post and interaction

a. Description

- If we are able to have the campus session in October, you will present a summary of your seminar or blog series during the morning of the first day of class (post by Oct 28).

- If COVID-19 requires an all online format for the class, you will post a video presentation of your seminar/blog series on Padlet in A2L (Oct 29) and post a one paragraph interaction with your class colleagues. You can post directly on Padlet using audio, audio-visual or text (post by Oct 30).

b. Guidelines

- 1) The presentation or online vide post should introduce the . . .
 - Target audience,
 - Topic,
 - Why you chose it, and . . .
 - Outline the topic's development in the seminar. You do not need to present the entire seminar. The video presentation is an overview of the seminar.
- 2) Length of presentation is approx. 10 minutes.

B. Major paper, presentation, and interaction

- ◆ This assignment gives you experience writing and presenting article, essay, and chapter length papers. It also affords the opportunity to contribute to and receive feedback from your course colleagues.
- ◆ You are encouraged to use this assignment as an opportunity to work on papers to . . .
 - Present at academic and/or professional society meetings and/or submit to journals for publication
 - Develop material for presentation to and/or application in your professional world
 - Pursue dissertation research.

* Zoom workshop discussion of paper topics & approaches (week 5)

1. Paper

You will write and present a thesis paper on a topic related to course content and your area of DPT practice led research. I encourage you to investigate the issue from the perspective of your discipline and area(s) of research interest.

a. Guidelines for the Paper:

The paper should include (description categories below correspond to those of the grading rubric) . . .

- 1) Content and argument
 - a) Detail a clear thesis (the view that your paper supports).

- Example of a thesis statement: The missional church movement, especially its emphasis on incarnational ministry, provides valuable insight for Christian leadership in a postmodern and post-Christian culture.

Note: The DPT PLR topic in this thesis statement is “Christian leadership in a postmodern and post-Christian culture.”

- b) Describe your topic.
 - c) Write an essay that coherently demonstrates your view.
 - d) Detail major alternatives and/or criticisms and interact with them vis-à-vis your view, where and when appropriate.
- 2) Form and Style:
- a) Write a stylistically clean and academic paper—e.g., avoid excessive first-person discourse, colloquialisms (academic differs from conversational voice), and passive voice (use active).
 - b) Use and document a minimum of fifteen scholarly resources. Given the limitations on accessing libraries, you may need to rely more on journal articles than other normal circumstances.
 - c) Accurately document sources according to the MDC Style Guide.
 - d) Paper length: 20–25 pages. Not to exceed 8,000 words.
 - e) Provide a bibliography (list only the books cited in the footnotes of the paper).
 - f) Use footnotes.

c. Due Date: March 31.

2. Presentation

Depending on course numbers, you will present your paper to the class in a Zoom live meeting or post a video of your presentation on the Paper Padlet. Determination of mode of presentation will be based on schedules and internet connectivity of students in the class. I prefer live presentation but will make a decision based on what works best for everyone in the class.

- The presentation of your paper (live or video) should be approx. 15 minutes.

- If we are not able to do the papers in a live format (e.g., using Zoom), then you can either post a video presentation of your paper OR a written draft of the paper to the paper Padlet.
- Due April 2 (Live or Padlet).

3. Interaction

a. Purpose:

Provides experience in responding to and contributing to your class colleagues' projects. It provides the opportunity to develop professional skills in academic interaction that takes place at professional and academic conferences.

b. Description:

Each student prepares a critical evaluation of the papers presented by their class colleagues.

1) The critique:

- a) Remember to be charitable; not only Christian, but since academia is a small guild, it is self-preservation.
- b) Critical (includes highlighting and discussing problems and strengths):

The critique should explore the following sorts of issues:

- Does the paper have a thesis?
- Does the content develop and support the thesis?
- Does it use appropriate sources?
- Does it interact with the relevant secondary literature?
- Does it bring the PLR topic into conversation with an area of theology?

2) Post your critical evaluation for each student in the Paper Padlet—see A2L outline, Paper Padlet. Evaluations can be written, audio, or audio-visual.

- Post collaboration by April 9.
