I. Description

Western culture declares the world secular. God and spirituality are the realm of the private inner life. Churches can embrace this wider cultural perspective by separating the sacred and the secular, church and culture, and creation and redemption, but Christians are then left with a fractured life. Most of their lives—from professions, arts, education, and entertainment—take place in the secular world. They struggle to relate these areas of life to God, spirituality, and church. This course explores ways to regain creation as the space for encountering God. Together we will consider ways to transcend the secular world, not by escaping it, but by finding God in the diverse contexts of life. To achieve this goal, this course engages leading voices and approaches to the problem of secularism and transcendence. It investigates theological and practical strategies for transcending the secular and retrieving creation as the horizon for experiencing God.

A. Format

This course is a hybrid class. It includes online and in-person learning experiences. The first part consists of two online weeks, April 10–21. The second part is in-person, April 25–27. The in-person days include two days of classroom experience, one of those featuring Christina Gschwandtner (conference keynote), and the third day attending the “Secularism and the Pursuit of Transcendence” conference at McMaster Divinity College (April 27, 2023). The third part of the course is three online weeks (May 1–19).

B. Specializations

Church and Culture
Christian Worldview
Pastoral Studies

II. Course Objectives

A. Knowing

1. Identify challenges facing the church from secularism (blogs/podcasts on church and secularism, small group discussions on major seminar/project/paper, lectures).
2. Describe and assess instances of secularism in contemporary culture (blog on secularism and religion).
3. Explore a variety of contemporary approaches to secularism and Christian responses to it (conference attendance).

- B. Being
1. Develop a theology of creation as a place for encountering God (lectures, constructive element of seminar/project/paper).
 2. Acquire a deeper theological vision for Christian life and ministry in secular society (seminar/project/paper, lectures).
 3. Improve skills for creating thoughtful and creative digital content (blogs, podcasts, video presentations).
- C. Doing
1. Differentiate and compare distinct Christian responses to secularism (blogs and/or podcast, video presentations).
 2. Articulate the complex theological knowledge and cultural analysis of secularism for a non-academic audience (post-conference reflection and assessment, seminar/project/paper).
 3. Generate and write a constructive Christian engagement with secular culture (seminar/project/paper).

III. Required Texts

* This course does not have a required text. Course readings and research activities fulfill reading requirements.

VI. Assignment Descriptions

General Guidelines

- Submit your assignments in the relevant folder on Avenue to Learn.
- All papers and assignments should conform to the MDC’s Style Guide: <https://mcmasterdivinity.ca/resources-forms/mdc-style-guide/>

A. Blog on secularism and religion

1. Purpose

This assignment introduces you to the topic of secularism and its implication for religion. It also provides the opportunity to apply this knowledge to contemporary culture by identifying and describing an example of secularism and its impact on religion and the quest for transcendence.

2. Guidelines

- a. Read Steven Kettell’s “Secularism and Religion,” Oxford Research Encyclopedias
<https://doi.org/10.1093/acrefore/9780190228637.013.898>
- b. Watch video lecture content on modernism.
- c. Based on the Kettell reading and video lecture content . . .

1) identify and describe a secular phenomenon/artifact in contemporary culture and . . .

2) assess consequences for transcendence/the experience of God.

d. Post your description and assessment of the secular artifact on Padlet (if your artifact is not material, post a concrete example—e.g., for example Starbucks’ cultivation of third spaces is an effort to create community and transcend the individualism promoted by secularism). Your description and assessment can be text, audio, or video using the post function within Padlet.

e. Interact with at least three of the artifacts posted by your class colleagues. You can contribute with the text or audio/audio-video within Padlet.

2. Style: Blogs target a popular audience. But they do not need to be simpleminded. They should condense, synthesize, apply, and highlight the importance and implications of part of a field of study.

3. Length: approximately 2,000 words.

B. Blog on church and secularism: What is your church’s relationship to secular culture?

1. Purpose

This assignment provides the opportunity to analyze the church’s response and relationship to its secular cultural environment. Assessing the church’s implicit and explicit posture toward secular culture is essential.

For example, does the church intentionally attempt to engage people through contemporary cultural forms, does it perceive itself as an isolated bastion for the faithful, and do its ministries and church “values” reflect accommodation to culture? This requires careful discernment. For example, a Christian organization on the surface may appear opposed to secularism but adopt a worldview and spirituality that regards the world as secular space.

2. Guidelines

a. Select a church or Christian ministry organization and interpret its response to secular culture. Ideally, the church/organization is one you attend and/or in which you are involved.

b. Use your observations of the church (website, ministries, sermons, etc.).

c. Length: approximately 2,000 words.

C. Post-conference reflection and assessment

Choose option 1 OR option 2

1. Option 1: Podcast or blog on Charles Taylor, Merold Westphal, and Robert Wuthnow interviews
 - a. Read the bio briefs on Taylor, Westphal, and Wuthnow in the Avenue folder before listening to the interviews.
 - b. After listening to the interviews, write a blog that compares the thought of at least two of the scholars interviewed.
 - c. Post podcast/blog on Padlet and interact with colleagues' posts.
 - d. Length: approximately 5-7 minutes/1,500 words.

2. Option 2: Mini-Seminar on Conference Take-Aways
 - a. Prepare a report on the secularism and transcendence conference. The report should do the following:
 - ⇒ Describe, compare, and contrast (where appropriate) the key contributions.
 - ⇒ Identify and assess their contribution for Christian thought, life, and/or ministry.
 - ⇒ Be sure to craft this mini seminar for a particular audience: e.g., church leadership group.
 - b. Post podcast/blog on Padlet and interact with colleagues' posts.
 - c. Length: approximately 10-12 minutes/2,000 words.
*Note: this assignment is longer than option 1 because option 2 is based on your experience at the conference whereas option 1 requires extra reading and content.

D. Seminar, Project, or Paper

This assignment constitutes the “major paper” and presentation of the course. The purpose of the paper/project is vocational development. It should advance your vocational trajectory.

Should I do a seminar, paper, or project?

Selecting whether to prepare a seminar, project, or paper is an important step in the process. If you anticipate further graduate work or writing a thesis as part of your MTS or MDiv, then an academic research-thesis paper is an excellent option. A research-thesis paper provides skill development in conducting the concentrated study on a particular research topic necessary for advanced academic work.

If your vocational track is ministry or an alternative professional field, then a seminar or project may be an effective option. Completing a project provides skill development in contextualizing and applying the fruit of theological research and reflection.

If you have an idea for a paper or creative project that does not fit neatly into the parameters of your specialization's assignment description, please discuss your idea with me. I am open to papers/projects that cohere with the essence of the course and are suited to your research field and interests.

The seminar, paper, project has three parts:

- 1) Presentation of the paper/project
- 2) Interaction with your course colleagues' papers/projects, and . . .
- 3) Written submission of the paper/project.

Specialization focus: CC/CW/PS

⇒ Please consult the assignment description for your degree specialization

⇒ Here is a link to more information on the specializations
<https://mcmasterdivinity.ca/apply/specializations/>

Church and Culture

This specialization focuses on the intersection of the church and its cultural setting. Developing the ability to interact with contemporary issues and to specify an appropriate Christian response and interaction with it is the purpose of this assignment. Discerning appropriate ways to embody the Gospel of Jesus Christ in terms of our specific cultural location is an essential aspect of Christian discipleship and ministry and this assignment seeks to facilitate this process. The paper/project analyzes a contemporary issue or movement from a Christian perspective. Careful and accurate description of the issue, as well as thoughtful assessment and response from a Christian perspective is essential.

Christian History and Worldview

This specialization relates to the intellectual environment—historical, contemporary, and global—of contemporary Christianity. Engage a topic related to political theology that addresses an element of Christian worldview. The paper/project should be constructive and not only descriptive. The heart of this assignment is your creative contribution to what a Christian worldview offers to an issue in contemporary political theology.

Pastoral Studies

This specialization focuses on vocational ministry. Prepare a sermon/message/curriculum appropriate for a given ministry audience related to political theology. You can draw on biblical, historical, and/or systematic approaches to political theology. The content of the sermon draws from theological resources but expresses the yield of that theology in language and terms that are appropriate for a ministry audience. Alternatively, if you have an idea for contextualizing political theology for ministry other than in a sermon, please talk with me so we can design a project that enables you to maximize your work in the class for your ministry context and meets the goals of the specialization in Pastoral Studies.

Guidelines for the Seminar or Project

1. Purpose
This assignment provides experience distilling and synthesizing information for presentation in non-academic settings.
2. Description
Prepare a seminar or project on a topic related to the church, secular culture, and the quest for experiencing the transcendent, or a topic related to the subject matter of the course.

The seminar/project does not need to be geared toward a church context but should be crafted for a specific audience—e.g., a church lay, professional ministry, business leadership group. The content and its development should reflect the target audience. I encourage you to prepare material that you can use in your current or anticipated context of ministry.
3. Video Presentation posted on Padlet
 - a. The presentation should introduce the . . .
 - Target audience,
 - Topic,
 - Why you chose it, and . . .
 - Outline the topic's development in the seminar. You do not need to present the entire seminar. The presentation is an overview of the seminar.
 - b. Length of video presentation is approx. 10-12 minutes.
 - c. Post video presentation on Padlet, May 15.

4. Interaction (post on Padlet)
 - a. Purpose
Provides experience in responding to and contributing to your class colleagues' projects.
 - b. Guidelines
Each student prepares a critical evaluation of the integrative papers/projects presented by their class colleagues. Evaluations can be written, audio, or audio-visual.
 - 1) The interaction should be . . .
 - a) Charitable
 - b) Critical (includes highlighting and discussing problems and strengths):

The interaction should explore the following sorts of issues:
 - Does the paper have a thesis?
 - Does the content develop and support the thesis?
 - Does it use appropriate sources?
 - Does it address a significant topic and develop it?
 - For projects, does it seem like an effective approach to a particular issue, topic, and does it seem effective given its target audience?
 - 2) Post your critical evaluation by May 17 for each student in the paper/project Padlet.
 - Interactions can text, audio, video.
 - Length: the equivalent of a substantive paragraph of written interaction.
5. Submit final written seminar/project May 19
Please submit all resources developed for the seminar—e.g., PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and an annotated outline of the seminar's/project's content.
 - a. Annotated bibliography of research sources: Provide an annotated bibliography of the reading consulted in the preparation of the seminar. The annotations for the texts should be about one paragraph that identifies the key thesis and contributions of the text to your seminar. 10 sources are a good start.
 - b. Seminar/project: The seminar material should present and describe the primary content points of the topic (or sub-topic). Verbatim is not necessary, but a detailed annotated outline of the content. If using multiple sources, use footnote to document source material.

- c. Double-spaced pages, 12-point Times New Roman font.
- d. Use and document at least 10 scholarly resources (e.g., scholarly monographs, journal articles, and essays).
- e. Document sources with footnotes and follow the MDC Style Guide.

Guidelines for the Paper or Project

1. Paper/project Presentation

a. Purpose

- Presenting your paper gives you the opportunity to share your major paper/project with your class colleagues.
- Your presentation may not reflect the completed paper/project. Indeed, the gap between the presentation and final due date provides you the opportunity to incorporate feedback from your class colleagues (see below for Paper/Project Collaboration).

b. Guidelines

a. Present to the class the paper/project's . . .

- Topic
- Why you chose your topic
- Content areas and development
- Key resources

b. Length of video presentation is approx. 10-12 minutes.

c. Post video presentation on Padlet, May 15.

2. Interaction (post on Padlet)

a. Purpose

Provides experience in responding to and contributing to your class colleagues' projects.

b. Description

Each student prepares a critical evaluation of the integrative papers/projects presented by their class colleagues. Evaluations can be written, audio, or audio-visual.

- 1) The interaction should be . . .
 - a) Charitable
 - b) Critical (includes highlighting and discussing problems and strengths):

The interaction should explore the following sorts of issues:

- Does the paper have a thesis?
- Does the content develop and support the thesis?
- Does it use appropriate sources?
- Does it address a significant topic and develop it?
- For projects, does it seem like an effective approach to a particular issue, topic, and does it seem effective given its target audience?

- 2) Post your critical evaluation by May 17 for each student in the paper/project Padlet.

- Interactions can text, audio, video.
- Length: the equivalent of a substantive paragraph of written interaction.

3. Submit final written paper May 19

- a. Paper

- 1) Content and argument

- Detail a clear thesis (the view that your paper supports).
Example of a thesis statement: Stanley Hauerwas' ecclesiocentric vision of Christian identity does/does not provide an effective paradigm for Christian activity in a modern nation state.
- Describe your topic under consideration.
- Write an essay that coherently demonstrates your view.
- Detail major alternatives and/or criticisms of the position and interact with them vis-à-vis your view (where appropriate and in so far as space allows).

2) Style and form

- Write a stylistically clean and academic paper—e.g., avoid colloquialisms (academic is different than conversational voice), passive voice (use active). Research-thesis papers must have a thesis statement (stated in the introduction), introduction, content, and conclusion sections of the paper.
- Use and document a minimum of ten scholarly resources.
- Accurately document sources according to the College’s Style Guide.
- Paper length: 10–12 pages.
- Provide a bibliography (list only the books cited in the footnotes of the paper).
- The final written paper/project is due one week after the video presentation (see course outline for final submission dates).

VII. Policies

A. Textbook Purchase

All required textbooks for this class are available from the College’s book service, The Hurlburt Family Bookstore, McMaster Divinity College (across from Cullen Hall). Texts may be purchased on the first day of class. For advance purchase, you may contact READ On Bookstore, 5 International Blvd, Etobicoke, Ontario M9W 6H3: phone (416) 620-2934, Text: (416) 668-3434. fax (416) 622-2308; email books@readon.ca

B. Academic Honesty

Academic dishonesty is a serious offence that may take any number of forms, including plagiarism, the submission of work that is not one’s own or for which previous credit has been obtained, and/or unauthorized collaboration with other students. Academic dishonesty can result in severe consequences, e.g., failure of the assignment, failure of the course, a notation on one’s academic transcript, and/or suspension or expulsion from the College.

Students are responsible for understanding what constitutes academic dishonesty. Please refer to the Divinity College Statement on Academic Honesty ~ www.madciv.ca/regs/honesty.php.

C. Gender Inclusive Language

McMaster Divinity College uses inclusive language for human beings in worship services, student written materials, and all its publications. It is expected that inclusive language will be used in chapel services and all MDC assignments. In reference to biblical texts, the integrity of the original expressions and the names of God should be respected, but you will need to use gender-inclusive language for humans, and you will need to quote from a gender-inclusive version such as the following: NRSV (1989), NCV (1991), TEV/GNB/GNT (1992), CEV (1995), NLT (1996), TNIV (2005), and the Common English Bible (CEB 2011). See further: <http://www.mcmasterdivinity.ca/programs/rules-regulations>.

VIII. Late-Assignment and Exam Policy

- A. Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the date specified in the syllabus.
- B. Students take exams on the date and at the time scheduled in the syllabus.
- C. Late assignments are reduced five percentage points for each day late (e.g., if the grade is 90 and it is one day late, the grade will be reduced to 85).
 - Please note, late papers may not be graded and returned at the same time as the other papers; they will not receive comments from the professor on the grade rubric.
- D. Assignments and exams will be accepted without penalty after the specified date in the syllabus only in the case of an excused absence. If a student misses an exam or assignment submission due to a reason that he/she believes is excusable, then he/she must notify the instructor and schedule an exam date and/or late-assignment submission date within twenty-four hours of the beginning of the missed class session.
 - Assignments and exams will not be accepted late based on the student's involvement with school-approved activities. If you are not able to be in class for an exam or assignment submission, then you must pre-arrange with the instructor to take the exam and/or submit the assignment before the scheduled date in the syllabus.

Please Note: This syllabus is the property of the instructor and is prepared with currently available information. The instructor reserves the right to make changes and revisions up to and including the first day of class.
